LIP

Legislative Internship Program

As a LIP student, you'll work 9 hours per week in the offices of federal, state and local legislators or think-tank/policy agencies. These representatives—whether in Congress, the State Legislature, the County Commission or City Council—are all actively involved in solving regional issues.

Develop new knowledge, skills and competencies by gaining access to and experiencing the political process first-hand.

TIP

Tallahassee Internship Program

TIP begins with an intensive course on Florida history, issues and politics before relocating to Tallahassee for the 60-day legislative session.

In TIP, you'll be placed in the office of an elected official, professional association or private firm that develops and researches issues addressing Florida state policy.

“The USF Public Policy Internship Program (Tallahassee Internship Program) enabled me to not only secure a full-time job post- graduation, but it fostered an environment that allowed hands-on, real-world experience. No book or classroom can expose you to what the day-to-day life is truly like in your chosen career field like the USF Public Policy Internship Program does. In addition, the relationships I was able to develop through the program have helped me to advance and excel in my profession.”
